Remarks and Experiments in Relation to Lightning and Electricity.

PARIS, June 30. Upon the Steeple of the Church of Plauzat, in Auvergue, is a Croſs of Iron, not painted or gilt. The Extremities of this Croſs form Sorts of Fleurs-de-Lis with ſharp Points. Whenever there happens any great Storm, accompanied with thick Clouds and Flaſhes of Lightning, a luminous Body is perceived upon every one of the Extremities of this Croſs. According to an immemorial Tradition, there very rarely happens to be any Thunder at Plauzat, or in the Neighbourhood, when this Phænomenon appears. As ſoon as it is ſeen, People are certain that the Storm is no more to be feared. The luminous Bodies are of different Colours like the Rainbow, and the Figure is conical. Some Times they continue an Hour and an Half, if it rains ever ſo plentifully.

Bruſſels, July 3. The Sieur Torre having cauſed a pointed Iron Rod to be erected upon the Top of his Houſe, on the 23d ult. at Night, tho' there was but a ſlight Appearance of a Storm, ſhining Sparks were drawn from that Rod; on the 26th at Night a dark Cloud covered the Sky, and an heavy Rain, mixed with Hail, fell, when People were ſurprized to feel and to ſee, that a Finger held at the Diſtance of two Inches from the Rod, excited very ſtrong Sparks. Theſe Phenomena greatly increaſed upon a Clap of Thunder being heard.

Paris, July 7. M. le Noine, the King's Phyſician, has made a new Experiment in Electricity, at St. Germaine en Laye, which confirms the Analogy of the Effect it has to that of Thunder; the Weather being very cloudy, he cauſed a Cake of Roſin to be brought to the Place, upon which he mounted, and without any other Inſtrument he extended his Hand above his Head, as a thicker Cloud than ordinary paſſed over him, and one of thoſe who were with him having touched him to make him remark ſomething, he inſtantly received a moſt violent Shock, of which Fact he has made Report to the Royal Academy of Sciences.

Madrid, May 23. The 5th Inſtant an Expreſs diſpatched from Ceuta brought Advice, that Don Antonio de Mendoza, Commandant of the Cavalry in that Place, having marched ſilently with 36 Troopers and ſome Foot Soldiers to the Mouth of the River of Tetuan, ſurprized a Band of Moors guarding three Galliots of Morocco, which with ſome others at Tangiers were preparing to make a Deſcent: That theſe Moors having deſcried our Cavalry, retired towards their Ships, leaving in their Flight about 30 of their Men dead on the Spot; and while our Troops were purſuing them, their Comrades took Shelter under the Cannon of their Caſtle, whoſe Fire our Men ſuſtained for ſome Time.

Vienna, May 27. The Empreſs has aſſigned to ſuch of her Subjects in Upper Auſtria as have declared themſelves Proteſtants, certain Diſtricts in Hungary, where they may ſettle, if they pleaſe, and have the Exerciſe of their Religion. It is thought that the Proteſtants of Stiria, who demand the free Exerciſe of their Religion, or elſe Leave to remove from their Country, will obtain the ſame Indulgence as thoſe of the Upper Auſtria.

Utrecht, June 25. Though ſome public Papers have ſaid that the Earl of Hyndford left Vienna the 7th Inſtant, we find by Letters come to Hand this Day, that he was ſtill there on the 14th conferring with the Imperial Miniſtry on the important Objects of his Commiſſion. Thoſe Letters add, that his Excellency had recently received another Courier from Hanover, with the King of Great-Britain's Anſwers and Reflections on certain Points, the previous Deciſion of which muſt contribute to facilitate the Election of a King of the Romans. They alſo mention a Family Negociation between the Imperial Court and that of Portugal, the Particulars of which they expect to know after the Return of a Courier from Liſbon.

Paris, July 24, The 21ſt Inſtant the Chambers of the Parliament being aſſembled, a Warrant was iſſued for apprehending the Sieur Bourot, Curate of Deſainvilliers in the Dioceſe of Amiens, for ſeveral Refuſals of the Sacraments, and of the Communion in particular, in his Church, ſince the Year 1749, for injurious Reflections in his Sermons on divers Perſons, and for having refuſed to begin a Proceſſion in Rogation Week, till one of thoſe Perſons had turned out of the Church. One of the Members then aſſured the Aſſembly, that ſince a Writ of Arreſt had been iſſued againſt the Curate of Chamore in the Dioceſe of Sens, no Divine Service had been celebrated in that Pariſh; upon which a Charge was given to the Attorney-General and Advocate-General to enquire into this Matter, and to make Report thereof to the Parliament within a Fortnight.

We don't yet hear what Anſwer the King made to the Attorney and Advocate General, whom the Parliament ſent to Compeigne about a Week ſince, to make Repreſentations about the Publication of the Biſhop of Amiens's Letter to his Majeſty: Nevertheleſs it is ſaid that they have made a very favourable Report to the Parliament; which we are apt to believe muſt be true, becauſe we ſee them continue to proſecute thoſe Prieſts who refuſe to adminiſter the Sacraments to Perſons ſuſpected of Janſeniſm.

Several Pieces have lately been publiſhed in Defence of the Cauſe of the Prelates, and amongſt them we ſee the following Letter to the King, ſigned by three Archbiſhops and ſixteen Biſhops.

SIRE,

We cannot expreſs to your Majeſty how much the truly Faithful have been and ſtill are alarm'd, nor can we deſcribe the Grief of the Biſhops, the Exultation of the Enemies of the Church, and the Aſtoniſhment of the whole Kingdom, at the Reſolution of your Parliament of the Fifth of May laſt.

That Tribunal has not feared to tell the World in the ſaid Reſolution, that the Archbiſhop of Paris dares to declare openly for a Schiſm: Magiſtrates who cannot authentically learn but from us, what it is that contributes Schiſm, and which are the Steps that unhappily lead to it, have dared to bring ſo odious an Accuſation againſt their Father in Jeſus Chriſt, againſt the Archbiſhop of the Capital, againſt your own Archbiſhop. And what plainly ſhews how far they are blinded by Prejudice, is, that they ſtigmatize this Prelate as a Schiſmatic, at the ſame Time that by their Vote or Reſolution they forbid the branding of the leaſt of your Subjects with this injurious Epithet.

If this Paſtor, the Diſciple of him who laid down his Life for his Sheep, more grieved than irritated to ſee Part of his Flock gone aſtray, oppoſes nothing to this Outrage but his Patience, his Silence, and his Charity; we, Sire, who foreſee what Religion is likely to ſuffer from ſuch an Inſult on the Character and Perſon of one of its moſt reſpectable Members, can we diſpenſe with ourſelves from repreſenting to your Majeſty the Conſequences of ſo atrocious an Imputation, which is propagated all over the Kingdom, and ſtands upon Record in the Parliament's Regiſters?

What will the People think, and what will they reſpect hereafter, if thoſe who are appointed to keep them in Subordination, give them an Example of Indocility; if they ſet up for Cenſors and Maſters of him whoſe Diſciples they ought to be in the Order of Religion; and if they proceed ſo far as to attack the Sacred Chair, which Jeſus Chriſt has immediately ſubjected them to; if they attempt to condemn and ſtigmatize their Paſtor, whom they ought to honour and reſpect; and if they precipitate themſelves into the Peril of Schiſm, in accuſing him of being the Fautor thereof?

Beſides, what a Triumph is here afforded to Libertines and Free-Thinkers, who being ever ready to ſhake of the Yoke off Religion, eagerly ſeize and improve the moſt trifling Occaſions to cry down and revile the Authority of its Miniſters!

Frighted, as we ought to be, at the Danger to which one of the moſt noble Portions of the Kingdom of Chriſt is expoſed, we recur, Sire, with Confidence to your Majeſty. We are perſuaded, that your Wiſdom and Prudence will point out a ſpeedy Remedy for ſo grievous an Event. You may do it with a ſingle Word, in ſuppreſſing and annulling that miſchievous Reſolution of the Parliament, and effacing, by your Sovereign Authority, the very Remembrance, if poſſible, of ſo injurious a Character.

This is what all the Archbiſhops, and Biſhops, that are at hand to preſent their moſt humble Supplications on this Subject have the Honour to requeſt of you, Sire, with the greateſt Earneſtneſs: 'Tis what is demanded of you by the whole Church of France, jointly attacked in the Perſon of a Prelate, whoſe Zeal for the ſound Doctrine, his immenſe Charity, and his Regularity in all his Duties, have infinitely endeared him to them.

We are, with the moſt profound Reſpect and moſt perfect Submiſſion.

Your Majeſty's, &c.

Signed by the Archbiſhops of Cambray, Aix and Tholouſe, the ancient Biſhop of Orange, the Biſhops of Langres, Nitrie, Bayeux, Carcaſſone, Metz, Meaux, Bethlehem, Cahors, Troyes, Dijon, Perpignan, Trequier, Avranches, Chartres and Apt.

Paris, July 28. An Arret of the Council of State is publiſhed, forbidding to print or diſperſe any Writings about religious Matters, without firſt obtaining a ſpecial Licence from the Court; and all Perſons offending againſt this Arret, are to be proſecuted as Diſturbers of the public Peace.

Peterſburg, September 15. On the 7th Inſt. about Three o'Clock in the Morning, her Imperial Majeſty, and their Imperial Highneſſes the Grand Duke and the Grand Dutcheſs, returned to their Palace in this City from Peterſhorff.

Their ſafe Return was immediately communicated to the Publick, by the Diſcharge of an hundred and one Pieces of Cannon belonging to the Fort, and by a great Number of Ship Guns that were at Anchor in our Port.

On the 10th Inſtant the Feſtival of the Order of St. Alexander Newſky, was ſolemnized at Court with the utmoſt Pomp and Magnificence; and the Knights of that Order, had the Honour at Noon, of dining with her Imperial Majeſty at Table, where there were no leſs that forty-four cover'd Diſhes, ſerved up in the new Gallery.

During the grand Entertainment, the Muſicians belonging to the Chapel, amuſed her Imperial Majeſty with a very grand Concert; and the Feſtival cloſed with a grand Ball, which her Imperial Majeſty honoured with her Preſence for ſeveral Hours together.

LONDON,

Sept. 16. By Advices from Yarmouth, all the Society's Buſſes have had the good Fortune to eſcape the Storms by which ſo many Ships were damaged Convoy, commanded by Capt. Goryen) suffered greatly by the bad Weather, but is now safe. The Superintendant, Mr. James Riddel, will proceed very soon on the Yarmouth Fishery.

The Corpse of the late Duke of Gordon was landed this Week from France, and is carried down to Scotland to be interr'd there with his Ancestors.

On Tuesday last was held on Board the Devonshire, at Chatham, a Court-Martial, Admiral Townshend President, upon a Complaint exhibited by Vice Admiral Griffin, against the Hon. Capt. Powlet; when neither Mr. Griffin nor a single Witness appearing in Support of the Charge, the Court adjudged that the same ought to be esteem'd groundless, and did therefore acquit Capt. Powlet of every Part thereof,

Amongst the other Strokes of Satire levelled against the too zealous Clergy in France, one is a Print, in the Front of which is a Representation of St. Peter, labouring to pacify some Episcopal Shepherds, who, with their Crooks, force the Sheep to beat their Heads one against another, with this Sentence coming out of his Mouth, Brethren, the Command to me was, Feed the Flock, not make them fight! At a Distance there are a small Number of religious Persons, their Eyes fixed to the Ground, and with one Hand on their Breasts, on which is inscribed, Have Mercy on us Sinners! Against them march a Body of Priests with Swords drawn, and behind them a Corps of Jesuits, drawing a Train of Spiritual Artillery. Beyond these a large Church in Ruins, with this Inscription on a Corner Stone, A House divided against itself cannot stand. In one Corner stand several Prelates looking upwards, with this Label formed from their Mouths, Let Fire come down from Heaven and consume them! Above is a Lamb reposing on a Cross, for whence these Words seem to be let fall, Ye know not of what Spirit ye are. This Print is not publickly sold, but as yet it has not been censured.

From Hanover we have the Pleasure of being assured, that the Negotiations at divers Courts about the Election of a King of the Romans, begin to take so good a Turn, that they hope the Electoral Dyet may be convoked next Month: They also flatter themselves, that the Demands and Pretensions of certain Princes may be adjusted in such a Manner, that none of them will thwart or retard this important and necessary Work. Which good News is confirmed by Letters from Vienna, importing, that all Obstacles are removed; that their Imperial Majesties are sure of a Majority in Favour of the Archduke Joseph; and that this Election will not only be agreeable to the German Courts, but also give great Satisfaction to all the Courts in Europe.

They write from Ratisbon of the 18th Instant, that M. Pollman, the Prussian Minister at the Dyet, having communicated to the Hanoverian Minister, as he did to all others residing there, the Memorial mentioned last Post, which contains a Refutation of the Pretensions of the House of Brunswick Lunenbourg to the Principality of East-Frizeland; the said Minister of Hanover would not receive the Memorial, but protested against it, reserving his Britannick Majesty's Right to that Principality.

Moses Moravia and John Manowry, who were found guilty of a Conspiracy, in endeavouring to sink the Elizabeth and Martha, in order to defraud the Insurers, received the following Sentence; each to be imprisoned in the common Goal of Newgate for 12 Months, and in that Time to stand severally on the Pillory twice, once on Tower-Hill, and the other Time at the Royal-Exchange, each to pay a Fine of 20 l. and to find Securities for their good Behaviour for five Years, themselves bound in a Bond of 200l. each, and such other Securities as the Court shall require.

Among other Tricks practised by those who conspired to defraud the Insurers, by sinking Ships insured, they used to purchase Goods of Tradesmen, pay for them, and order them to be packed up and sent on Board the Ship: In the Night the Goods were taken clandestinely out of the Ship, and afterwards disposed of for what they would bring. In this Manner a Clock-maker in Tower-street some Time ago had a Clock bespoke, which he made according to Order; and when he had finished it, he received his Money, put up the Clock in a Case, and delivered it on Board. A few Days afterwards he was surprized to see, as he thought, the same Clock in a Broker's Shop, and by a nearer Inspection he knew it to be so. Upon Enquiry, he found that the Broker had bought it of the Captain of the same Ship, on Board of which he had sent it: By these Means, after the Ship was sunk, they could not only produce the Tradesmen's Receipts for the Goods, but also prove the Delivery of them on Board, and consequently make their Demand on the Insurers.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, July 7.

"The Deputies of the Clergy, that lately waited on the King, were the Archbishops of Aix and Sens, and the Bishops of Langres and Bayeux: The Archbishop of Aix made a short Harangue to his Majesty in presenting the Petition formerly mentioned, which is drawn up in Opposition to the Proceedings of the Parliaments of the Kingdom: The King took the Petition, and only said, that he would take due Care of Religion.

"Most People are extremely disgusted at the Conduct of the Archbishop of this Metropolis, especially on Account of the Lettre de Cachet which he obtained against the Rector of St. John in Greve, for offering to justify himself before the Parliament. Even the Friends of this Prelate condemn him, and are grieved to see him under the Guidance of some hot-headed Priests, who abuse the Confidence he puts in them, and hurry him into Measures which perhaps he would never dream of, were he not spurred on by Men capable of taking Delight in so melancholy a Scene as that of the Clergy and the Parliament at Daggers-drawing. Hence it is that ignorant, hair-brained Parish Priests seek Opportunities to get themselves talk'd of: They want to get a Name at any Rate, never reflecting that it is such a Name as debases their Ministry and renders them odious to all Men of Sense: Neither do they consider in what a ridiculous Light our Nation now stands with Foreigners, who may very well be allowed to think we are all mad, since a Pack of Hotspurs can raise such Ferments among us about Trifles, and that the Court finds it so difficult to keep Peace between the Heads of the Church, and the Heads of the Law.

Extract of a Letter from Berlin, July 20.

"The last Instructions which the King has sent to Mr. Pollman, his Minister at Ratisbon, about the Affair of East Frizeland, tally exactly with the Memorial which that Minister lately presented to the Dyet. His Majesty, accustomed to maintain his Rights, is firmly resolved to relinquish none of the Titles by Virtue of which he has been acknowledged as Lord and Possessor of East-Frizeland. His Minister at Ratisbon has Orders to contradict the Imputations contained in the Writings of the Hanoverian Ministry, and to shew the States of the Empire, that it is with great Injustice that they endeavour in the said Writings to render his Principle suspicious, since it is impossible to have any better calculated for the Good of the Empire than those which he makes Profession of; seeking only to give to Cæsar the Things that are Cæsar's, aiming at nothing but to maintain the Imperial Authority, but at the same Time unwilling to expose himself to the Reproach of suffering a System to be introduced in the Empire, according to which the Sentence of such a Court as the Aulic Council would have more Force and Weight than the Resolutions of the Empire and the Decrees of the Emperors, which so positively established his Right of Possession; and being moreover persuaded, that the Electors and Princes of the Empire will consider how important it is, that such of them as may sacrifice their Dominions and their Troops for the Service of the Emperor and the Empire, should be indemnified with something better than bare Promises, &c."

Thursday a notable Cause was tried, upon an Action brought by the Company of Poulterers against a Poulterer at Kensington, upon the Stat. 5. Eliz. for exercising the Trade, not having served seven Years Apprenticeship; and after a Trial of near three Hours, neither the Court nor Jury could find it at all necessary to be obliged to serve seven Years to learn the Mystery or Skill of plucking a Goose, or skinning a Rabbit, so that the Jury gave a Verdict for the Defendant; and now it will be the Defendant's Turn to pluck the Company for his Costs.

On Wednesday Night a young Man, driven by Hunger, went into a Cook's Shop near St. Martin's Lane, and called for some Victuals; when he came to pay he was reduced to a very troublesome Dilemma, as he was without Money; his great Spirit would not permit him to own it, and to evade being put to the Blush he pick'd a Quarrel with the Landlady, which grew at last so violent, that she had him secured by the Watch, and carried to the Round-House. In the Morning when he was to appear before the Justice, some of his Creditors, who had got Notice of it, sent a Bailiff, who arrested him, and carried him off: For this illegal Step the Bailiff is liable to a very great Fine, for no Man can be arrested for a Debt while he is a Prisoner for an Assault; 'til once he is cleared of the one he cannot be laid hold of for the other.

The great Number of Instances of the shocking Crime of Perjury which have lately happened, are sufficient to alarm any Community, and excite its Members to make some Effort towards the Preservation of Property and Life. The Crime of Perjury is of such a Nature, that if not severely check'd, will soon unhinge all the Obligations of Civil Honour, and introduce an universal Danger to the State. What Life is safe, when it is in the Power of every Villain to swear it away? Who can reckon their Property secure, when an abandoned Wretch can alienate it by a false Appeal to Heaven? And as an Oath is the highest Bond of Truth, it is requisite that this solemn Observation should not be made but upon Occasions worthy of it. To prevent the Injuries which the World must necessarily suffer by Perjury, besides the obvious Expedient of making the Crime Capital, there is another more easy, and which in all Probability will be more effectual, and that is, that Oaths should not be administered so frequently, nor upon so slight Occasions; they who dare to lie when called upon seriously to speak Truth, are not likely to be influenced by an Oath: Three fourths of the low People do not know what an Oath means, and by hearing it given upon trifling Occasions, and without Solemnity, they are apt to conclude that there is nothing in it; whereas, if they were instructed by those who administer Oaths of their Importance, and taught the horrid Nature of Perjury, the most hardened Wretch would shudder at it, nor dare to utter Falshood to the Searcher of Hearts.

Extract of a Letter from Amsterdam, June 27.

"The Theatre of Negociations is at present at Hanover, where the King of Great-Britain and his Ministers are earnestly endeavouring to remove the Obstacles which the grand Affair of the Election of the Archduke Joseph to be King of the Romans meets with. This Crown, it seems, is to be purchased at the Expence of some Territories which his Britannick Majesty thinks the House of Austria had best sacrifice, in Order to establish itself once more upon the Imperial Throne, for the Happiness and Tranquillity of Europe. The rational Politicians are thoroughly convinced, that there must be an End of the Balance of Power in Europe, as soon as the Imperial Crown shall pass to another House. It is for this Reason that his Britannick Majesty seconds the Demand of the Palatine Court, and supports its Pretensions at Vienna; which he does with the more Earnestness, as it's ten to one, if this Elector quits the Party of the King of Prussia, but the Elector of Cologn will once again return to the true System of his Family, which owes its Grandeur to the august House of Austria. It appears that even the Court of France avoids giving Jealousy to their Imperial Majesties and the Empire, having countermanded the Orders which it had given to form a Camp of several Regiments in Alsace, instead of which there will be one of some Thousand Men in Franche Comte; and this makes the Cantons of Berne and Basil so uneasy, as to make them talk of assembling their Troops.

"People's leaving their native Country to sojourn in a strange Land is now become in a Manner fashionable. It is not Religion, which is at present the Pretence, but Misery and Want: People being overburthened with Taxes, and not longer able to subsist in the Bishoprick of Wurtsbourg, many of them have come down the Rhine, most Roman Catholicks, in Order to go and people Nova-Scotia. In like Manner several Families daily leave Lorrain, in Order to settle in the Dominions of their old Sovereign, or those of his august Consort the Empress Queen. In short, Languedoc, Dauphine, and Provence, are depopulating, which, indeed, is occasioned by the Persecution that the Intendants are renewing against the Protestants of those Provinces, where they swarm, and from whence they retire into Switzerland, Neufchatel, and even to Berlin.

"The Morocco Minister is gone, we are told, from Copenhagen, without concluding any thing; his whole Negociation consisting of nothing more than fair Promises, which the good Treatment he met with drew from him in Profusion. By this Intelligence, which comes from Hamburgh, one may perceive the Ill-Humour that People are in there, probably on Account of not succeeding in their Negociation in Spain, where but little Regard is had to Mr. Klefeker's Instances."

An Extract of a Letter from Hamburgh, dated July 28.

'The King of Sweden some Time ago caused a Memorial to be presented by his Envoy at Petersbourg to the Empress of Russia, wherein,

'among

" among other Things, that Prince ſets forth, ' That it was generally re-
" ported that the Court of Ruſſia had ordered a Mandate to be publiſhed
" in all the Churches of the Villages upon the Frontiers of Finland un-
" der Sequeſtration, whereby the Inhabitants of that litigated Diſtrict were
" commanded to pay eight Years Arrears of Contribution to a Ruſſian Col-
" lector, and to acknowledge the Empreſs of Ruſſia for their Sovereign:'
" The Court of Sweden likewiſe notified this trifling Affair to all the fo-
" reign Miniſters reſiding at Stockholm, adding, that it was an Infraction
" of Treaties, and that even Redouts had been erected in this Diſtrict by
" the Engineers of Ruſſia. To which Memorial the Ruſſian Miniſtry cauſed a
" ſmart Anſwer to be made to the following Purpoſe: ' That ſince the " Complaints of the Court of Sweden had no other Foundation than a
" Report, the Swediſh Miniſtry would do better for the future to addreſs
" themſelves directly to the Court of Ruſſia before they made ill-grounded
" Complaints to foreign Miniſters; that Ruſſia had not made the leaſt Al-
" teration to the Diſtrict in Queſtion, nor had received or demanded any
" Contribution from its Inhabitants; but Sweden, contrary to the Tenor
" of the Sequeſtration, had, for two Years paſt, raiſed Money upon them,
" of which Ruſſia, from the Inſignificancy of the Subject, had not taken
" the leaſt Notice; and that a Liſt of Inhabitants was taken by the laſt
" Power, with no other View, than to know how many of them each
" Nation ought to have for Subjects; that the Redoubts which Ruſſia had
" made in the Neighbourhood, were inconteſtably upon the Territories of
" her Imperial Czariſh Majeſty: In ſhort, it ſeemed as though Sweden
" was fractious, and in Humour to pick a Quarrel, if ſhe had Forces to
" ſupport it."

Providence, in America, July 16. Yeſterday arriv'd here, the Cool, in Diſtreſs, from Jamaica for Cape Fear. The Occaſion of her putting in here was as follows, Coming through the Windward Paſſage ſhe was brought too by a Spaniſh Guarda-Coſta, and after a ſtrict Search, finding no Money on Board, the Spaniards were exaſperated to that Degree, that they uſed the People with ſuch Cruelty, that there were only three Men able to ſtand the Deck, which obliged them to put into this Port for more Aſſiſtance to carry the veſſel to the Northward.
